THE IDEA & HOW IT WORKS

Most companies already run Fun Fridays and employee engagement activities great for team bonding. We thought: why not add one where employees walk away having actually learned something useful for life?

One of our financial advisors visits your office and runs an interactive 30 - 45 minute session. No lectures, no slides full of jargon - just real conversations, questions, and activities your employees can genuinely take part in.

WHAT WE COVER

Making better use of the money you already have

Building a financial structure for independence

How to make your money work for you

Identifying short- and long-term financial goals

How and where to start investing

Common financial mistakes people make

ACTIVITIES THAT MAKE IT STICK

LEARNING WORKS BEST WHEN IT'S EXPERIENCED, NOT JUST HEARD. HERE'S A GLIMPSE OF THE INTERACTIVE ACTIVITIES WOVEN INTO THE SESSION:

Financial Myth or Fact	Quick-fire statements, instant myth-busting - correcting common money misconceptions in real time.
The 50-30-20 Challenge	Employees split a sample salary across needs, wants, and savings using the 50-30-20 rule, then compare it to their own actual spending - a simple, hands-on way to see the gap between theory and practice.
"Where Am I vs. Where I Want to Be"	A private, judgment-free exercise where employees note their current habits against their ideal financial future.
"Debt or Investment?" Sorting Game	Employees sort real financial decisions into good debt, bad debt, and investment - sparking discussion on what truly builds wealth.
"One Habit I'll Change" Pledge	Every employee leaves with one personal commitment - turning the session into action, not just information.

TRY IT, RISK-FREE

We know saying yes to something new isn't always easy, so we've kept this simple. Your first session is entirely on us a real chance to see the value before deciding anything.

- A complete 30 - 45 minute session, delivered just as it would be for a paying client
- Our advisor comes to you - no effort needed on your end
- See exactly how your employees respond and engage
- No cost, no commitment, no strings attached

Think of it as a demo built around your trust, not ours.

WHAT'S NEXT

Loved the session? We'd love for it to not be a one-time thing.

Longer, more structured wellness programs available

Sessions that go deeper into what your employees care about most

Flexible scheduling built around your company's rhythm

And if it's not the right fit after the first session? That's okay too. No pressure, no follow-ups, no obligation - we're just glad we got to add a little value along the way.
